

My Destiny

While I'm growing up I want the best,
Going to school to achieve success.
I want to be the highlight of the news,
Good possibilities is where I'm heading to.

I want to be the world's best doctor!
Flying first class on private helicopters.
I want people to notice me,
Giving all I have to achieve.

Going to college for the best degree,
Future of possibilities is what I see.
Not letting failures drag me down,
Successful, educated, people is what I want to be around!

I'm doing this to live a good life,
Also, to prove people they were not right.
The best of jobs and educated is what I plan to be,
Achieving a step further to my future is where I will be.

What you grow up around is not what you have to be,
You can always reach a future full of possibilities.
But, I will always be full of ambition and commitment,
I want to be able to say "A future of possibilities is what I dream and conquered it!"
