

My Future Career-Imagine the possibilities

A future career

Something that should seem to be clear

Yet I struggle to find something that fits my passion and love

A career should fit you like a glove

If I should choose science will I regret it?

Is it so hard to find that I slowly forget it

Maybe I know deep down what I should do

But doubt always seems to plunder you

I want to stand up for what's right

Yet in this world, you must fight

I want to learn how to soar, how to fly

Fly into a world of adventure and see the sky

Yet will my dreams of being on Broadway and writing get me anywhere?

Once again I have my doubts, wish I didn't care

So many people may judge me

What if I fail to succeed?

See where my dreams lead me

Should I care?

Should I be fair?

Should my heart or brain decide where I go?

If I'm fair, Do I grow?

So many questions that I can't seem to answer

When I was younger dreams seem so close, Do I go back and ask her?

Even though my future isn't clear

There's one thing I always hear

"You must love what you do to enjoy life"

I love to be on stage and I love to write

But in all of this spite

Am I willing to take a risk?

I want to be successful

Could I be successful in this?

And then it hit me

Life is too short to ignore the things that make you happy.

I want to perform onstage and inspire people all across the seas

I want to follow my dreams.
